SIMON COWELL is hoping he gets PRETTY before he gets old in his bizarre quest to stay “ageless”.

YOUTH-obsessed Simon Cowell will do almost anything to beat Father Time – including undergoing a cutting edge cosmetic procedure and sleeping in a hyperbaric chamber like Michael Jackson!

Sources say the “X Factor” judge believes that the chamber’s pure oxygen helped him heal after a recently having a neck-lift to make him look younger than his 53 years.

“Simon will be the FIRST person to tell you that he doesn’t mind getting older,” revealed an insider.

“But the truth is he’ll try anything that keeps him looking like he’s in his late 30s or early 40s.”

In one of his latest bids to turn back time, Simon had his saggy “turkey neck” tightened in a noninvasive procedure by a Beverly Hills plastic surgeon in October, said the source.

The neck-lift was likely done with the new Fractora Firm device, said Michigan-based plastic surgeon Dr. Anthony Youn, who has not treated Cowell. The device uses radio frequency energy to create tissue-firming collagen under the skin.

“He’s convinced that he can stop the ‘Aging Factor’ and look great for many years to come.”
